

Mutual Non-Disclosure Agreement

Confidential Information means non-public business information disclosed by either party.

Confidential Information excludes public information, prior knowledge, independently developed information.

This Agreement expires two years after the effective date and may be terminated by either party with written notice.

This Agreement is governed by the laws of New York.